Outback Vet Joint Maintain does not contain substances that may cause a problem during "swabbing", and may be used as a protective nutritional supplement during all competitions.

WHY ARE ESSENTIAL OILS SO GOOD?

The natural essential oils used in the Outback Vet Dermatological range of products not only offer therapeutic benefits, but also have a soothing and calming effect on your animals helping them to be healthy and happy.

Eucalyptus Oil has antiseptic properties which help stop the spread of infection and relieve pain.

Tea Tree Oil has many uses. It has broad activity against bacteria, viruses and fungi, also helping support the immune system to combat infection with these organisms. Plus, it effectively helps to relieve itching and skin irritation.

Citronella Oil is a well known natural insect repellent.

500 mL bottle

ITCH RELIEF LOTION

Outback Vet Itch Relief Lotion is a dermatological lotion for horses and dogs which acts as an aid in repelling flying, biting insects and controlling skin infections.

Combining three essential oils in a water-resistant lotion works in 3 ways:

- 1. Repels - Aids in insect control
- Repels flying, biting insects.
- 2. Antiseptic - Helps fight common topical bacterial and fungal infections of the coat, skin, hoof and heel.
- 3. Itch Relief - Fewer bites - soothes the skin.

Apply externally, either directly to the target area or by wiping into the coat of the animal using a clean applicator. Application should be concentrated in areas affected or susceptible to bites from biting and flying insects and/or skin infections. Repeat application every 2 - 3 days as required.

500 mL; 5 L bottle

COMFORT SPRAY

An aid for farriers, veterinary surgeons, riders and stable hands while attending to restless animals.

Outback Vet Comfort Spray will aid in keeping annoying insects such as flies, ticks and fleas away from the face, head and legs of the animal.

Use as a surface spray around stables, and on bedding and equipment. Apply to the animal externally, either directly to the target area or by wiping into the coat using a clean applicator.

Application should be concentrated in areas affected by and susceptible to bites from biting and flying insects. Repeat application as required.

500 mL bottle

HERBAL SHAMPOO

Flies and insects pose a problem for horses at shows, events, races, and in stables and paddocks.

Outback Vet Herbal Shampoo used prior to an event will help reduce insect-related stress and annoyance.

Combining essential oils in a medicated shampoo cleans and conditions the skin and coat, and brings out the natural colour and shine while acting as an aid to soothe itching skin.

Outback Vet Herbal Shampoo can also be used as an alternative to harsh detergent to wash horse rugs, saddle cloths, bandages, wraps and gear.

250 g pot

ITCH RELIEF GEL

Outback Vet Itch Relief Dermatological Gel can be used in the same way as the lotion. The gel formula allows for easy application around the head and ears.

It can also be applied around small closed wounds to repel insects. Apply directly to legs, hoof, heel and fetlock to treat Greasy Heel, Mud Fever and skin infections.

Each 6.42 g syringe contains 140mg of Praziquantel and 18.7 mg of Ivermectin and treats horses up to 600 kg.

ALLWORMER FOR HORSES

Outback Vet Allwormer for horses is well suited to be the key therapy in your equine parasite control program. It is highly effective in the treatment and control of most types of equine helminths including tapeworms, gastrointestinal, cutaneous and pulmonary nematodes and bots in horses and foals from 6 – 8 weeks of age.

Provided as a low-volume dose in an easy-to-use syringe, dosing is made easy, especially for people with smaller hands. With the added advantage of being an apple-flavoured paste, your horse will find it palatable.
